Dear Sir / Madam,

This mail is regarding the IIT Bombay-Spoken Tutorial Software training courses that many of you have been offering in your colleges to your students. Since 2011 these courses have been valued by so many colleges all over India. It is not just IT/Software advance level courses but also Basic IT Skills- LibreOfffice Package having Writer (Word processing), Calc (Spreadsheet), Impress(Slides/Powerpoint). Each learner can get 3 certificates from IIT Bombay in a year which is much suited for all the GDCs.

Of course BCA/MCA B.Sc. IT, B.Comm IT students can opt for advance level courses like C, C++, Java and PHPMySQL - one to improve their exam performance and second to get employable Skills. Other Skills training are the job oriented Multimedia courses like - Blender, GIMP, Inkscape for animation and computer graphics. No where will students be able to learn these courses so easily and for a negligible cost in their own labs in their own free time. That is by self-learning.

In the last 7 years, we have trained more than 47 lakh+ learners nationwide through this easy audio-video method through which students can learn on their own. The courses have been prepared by none less than best IIT Bombay experts.

The program:
- has the lowest cost offering diverse amount of lucrative courses which range from basic IT skills, to courses which can be mapped to syllabus and used as E- resource, to courses which are job-oriented along with certification from IIT Bombay
- can help you raise your standard for the NAAC Accreditation
- can satisfy your MOOCs requirements
- has plans to provide students with live projects and placements on the basis of their merits

E- Brochure link :https://process.spoken-tutorial.org/images/a/a8/E-brochure.pdf

All these courses come with Certificates based on an online test taken in the college itself. Clearly such a program is very useful in this day and age for our graduating students. Many colleges are already working and planning for all 6 semesters. The University recommends completely.
